

Environmental Award for Buchan Concrete Solutions Ltd

Buchan Concrete is committed to integrating environmental management in to its business and following assessment by the British Standards Institution, Buchan is pleased to announce the award of BS EN ISO 14001:2004.

The certification was awarded to Buchan after it implemented a company wide environmental management system and demonstrated a commitment to reduce, reuse and recycle waste and to efficiently use resources and energy, whilst complying fully with environmental legislation and offering greater protection to the environment.

Buchan are part of the Roger Bullivant Group of Companies and produces offsite manufactured precast concrete crosswall solutions, which are used to build a range of projects from schools, classroom extensions, sports halls, hotels, secure accommodation, student accommodation through to warehousing, commercial and retail buildings.

Buchan is aware that clients have continual aspirations for increasingly sustainable buildings, therefore has set high standards for further improvement and is passionate about making a positive difference to the environment and the world we live in.

End.
